Arapahoe County appoints Angela Lytle as new Division Manager Lytle to oversee Arapahoe County's Children, Adult and Family Services division

AURORA, CO --- Arapahoe County has named Angela Lytle as the new manager of Children, Adult and Family Services, effective immediately.

"We are thrilled to hire Angela with her proven experience, work ethic and skills," said Cheryl Ternes, Director of Human Services. "Angela has an energy and passion for her work that will be a catalyst for this division to achieve further success."

After conducting a search, Arapahoe County hired Lytle, following the promotion of Carla Finch, who serves as deputy director of Human Services. Lytle will oversee a 178-member staff and manage an annual operating budget of $34 million of State, Federal and County monies. Child, Adult and Family Services is a division of the Human Services department.

Since 2002, Lytle was Division Manager for Adams County Social Services where she was responsible for the overall management of the Division of Child Protection and Family Services ensuring the safety and protection of children, adequate support to preserve family unity and guidance, and direction to delinquent adolescents and their parents.

She has worked in the field of child protection and children's services since 1987 and holds a Bachelor's and Master's degree in Social Work.
